Recommended action

We keep our recommendations: LT fundamental Buy and ST relative Overweight intact while our 12M EFV goes up by 5% from PLN 97.7 to PLN 103.0 per share.

We expect the Company's 1Q24 financial showing to be strong and better yoy mainly due to higher yoy volumes and prices of diagnostic tests coupled with improved reported results of Alteris. We forecast PLN 2 million from the settlement of surplus services.

1Q24 financial results preview

In 1/2/3/4Q23 Voxel performed c. 87,000/ 88,000/ 91,000/ 92,000 diagnostic tests (up 20%/ 16%/ 19%/ 12% yoy); we expect the volume of diagnostic tests to reach c. 96,000 (up 10% yoy) in 1Q24 and assume the high demand for MRI, CT, PET and SPECT scans should continue (we forecast MRI/CT/PET/SPECT scans to reach c. 58,000/ 30,000/ 5,000/ 4,000 scans, up 15%/ 4%/5%/5% yoy). We estimate a number of procedures to have been performed in Rezonans Powiśle with Scanix at c. 15,000 and 130 at Exira.

Source: Company, DM BOŚ SA estimates

Voxel's 1Q24 non-consolidated revenues should reach PLN 83 million (up 18% yoy). We forecast 1Q24 revenues at RP/ Scanix/ Exira/ Alteris at PLN 3/8/3/13 million vs PLN 3/7/3/11 million a year ago. We expect the Group's consolidated revenues to reach PLN 100 million (up 3% yoy) in the discussed quarter.

We forecast the Group's EBIT at PLN 26 million (up 39% yoy). The Company informed that costs in the diagnostic services segment would grow by c. PLN 1 million monthly (assumed at 3Q23 volumes) due to pay rises introduced from November 1 for the medical staff (those employed by the Group and those cooperating handling CT, MRI, X-ray, and ultrasound services). We expect the surplus services to be settled (as it was in 1Q23) which should result in additional PLN 2 million supporting the Company's EBIT.

According to our estimates, in 1Q24 recurring net financial costs should be lower yoy and reach PLN 2 million, attributed mainly to the partial repayment of bonds. We assume the lower effective tax rate than in the base period and forecast the Group's NI at PLN 18 million (up 57% and 11% yoy on the reported and adjusted level, respectively).

Valuation

Our 12M EFV for Voxel constituting a 50%–50% mix of the DCF FCFF method and peer-relative valuation, rises 5% to PLN 103.0 (previously PLN 97.7) per share, on the back of financial forecast changes, including a lower debt assumption. The risk free rate is raised from 5.4% to 5.8% in the period of detailed forecasts. The DCF FCFF/ peer relative valuation implies PLN 108 (previously PLN 96)/ PLN 98 (previously PLN 100) per share (we still include a 20% discount vs peers).

Risk factors

1. Lower public spending on health care (high exposure to NFZ)
2. Medical services pricing increase too low (hospital)
3. Change in the State's policy regarding private medical contractors
4. Changes in the Company's contracts with NFZ
5. Changes in legislation regarding the funding of hospitals/ treatments
6. The decline in the society's affluence (FFS and commercial clients contribute up to 20% of Voxel's revenues)
7. New innovative methods of cancer diagnostics/ treatment
8. Medical errors - reputation risk
9. Low and deteriorating availability of radiologists
10. Loss/low labor supply
11. Salary pressure (in particular of medical and IT staff)
12. Overblown investments
13. Lagging behind the technological progress in diagnostics

Catalysts

1. Aging society
2. A number of diagnostic imaging scans in Poland below the standards in developed countries
3. Medical services pricing increase
4. Development of the market of private medical services
5. Improvement of the treatment mix (towards more advanced)
6. New medical services offered
7. Development of the segment of pharmaceutical research (clinical trials)
8. Organic growth, new centers (high barriers to entry)
9. Acquisitions – economies of scale
10. Consolidation of the sector; potential acquisition target
11. AI development and new algorithms for test descriptions
12. IT software development for cloud diagnostics

DM BOŚ S.A. generally values the covered non bank companies via two methods: comparative method and DCF method (discounted cash flows). The advantage of the former is the fact that it incorporates the current market assessment of the value of the company's peers. The weakness of the comparative method is the risk that the valuation benchmark may be mispriced. The advantage of the DCF method is its independence from the current market valuation of the comparable companies. The weakness of this method is its high sensitivity to undertaken assumptions, especially those related to the residual value calculation. Please note that we also resort to other valuation techniques (e.g. NAV-, DDM- or SOTP-based), should it prove appropriate in a given case.

KEY TO INVESTMENT RANKINGS

This is a guide to expected price performance in absolute terms over the next 12 months:

Buy – fundamentally undervalued (upside to 12M EFV in excess of the cost of equity) + catalysts which should close the valuation gap identified;
Hold – either (i) fairly priced, or (ii) fundamentally undervalued/overvalued but lacks catalysts which could close the valuation gap;
Sell – fundamentally overvalued (12M EFV < current share price + 1-year cost of equity) + catalysts which should close the valuation gap identified.

This is a guide to expected relative price performance:

Overweight – expected to perform better than the benchmark (WIG) over the next quarter in relative terms
Neutral – expected to perform in line with the benchmark (WIG) over the next quarter in relative terms
Underweight – expected to perform worse than the benchmark (WIG) over the next quarter in relative terms

The recommendation tracker presents the performance of DM BOŚ S.A.'s recommendations. A recommendation expires on the day it is altered or on the day 12 months after its issuance, whichever comes first.

Relative performance compares the rate of return on a given recommended stock in the period of the recommendation's validity (i.e. from the date of issuance to the date of alteration or – in case of maintained recommendations – from the date of issuance to the current date) in a relation to the rate of return on the benchmark in this time period. The WIG index constitutes the benchmark. For recommendations that expire by an alteration or are maintained, the ending values used to calculate their absolute and relative performance are: the stock closing price on the day the recommendation expires/ is maintained and the closing value of the benchmark on that date. For recommendations that expire via a passage of time, the ending values used to calculate their absolute and relative performance are: the average of the stock closing prices for the day the recommendation elapses and four directly preceding sessions and the average of the benchmark's closing values for the day the recommendation expires and four directly preceding sessions.

DM BOŚ S.A. generally values the covered banks via two methods: comparative method and fundamental target fair P/E and target fair P/BV multiples method. The advantage of the former is the fact that it incorporates the current market assessment of the value of the company's peers. The weakness of the comparative method is the risk that the valuation benchmark may be mispriced. The advantage of the fundamental target fair P/E and target fair P/BV multiples method is its independence of the current market valuation of the comparable companies. The weakness of this method is its high sensitivity to undertaken assumptions, especially those related to the residual value calculation. Assumptions used in valuation can change, influencing thereby the level of the valuation. Among the most important assumptions are: GDP growth, forecasted level of inflation, changes in interest rates and currency prices, employment level and change in wages, demand on the analysed company products, raw material prices, competition, standing of the main customers and suppliers, legislation changes, etc. Changes in the environment of the analysed company are monitored by analysts involved in the preparation of the recommendation, estimated, incorporated in valuation and published in the recommendation whenever needed.
