Ferro

Recommended action

We uphold our recommendations: LT fundamental Hold and ST relative Neutral for Ferro. We expect relatively flat yoy 4Q24 financial results featuring a tad lower yoy EBIT and slightly higher yoy NI. The pressure on demand continues and we expect a lower yoy EBIT margin and negative FX differences albeit down vs the base quarter. Our financial forecasts update makes 12M EFV drop by 4% to PLN 39.5 per share.

4Q24 financial results preview

The demand is still dwelling on a low level, we believe. In 3Q24 the Group's sales in Poland/ Czechia/ Slovakia/ Hungary/ other countries fell 8%/ 7%/ 6%/ 5%/ 2% yoy, the only exception was Romania with a 10% yoy growth. In the discussed period we expect a sales yoy decline as well and forecast revenues at PLN 81/ 30/ 11/ 44/ 9/ 20 million (-5%/ -7%/ -7%/ +3%/ +2%/ +3% yoy) in Poland/ Czechia/ Slovakia/ Romania/ Hungary/ other countries.

3Q24 sales in the segments of batteries and accessories/ installation fittings/ heating systems fell 0,1%/ 8%/ 7% yoy; we assume sales in 4Q24 to change by -1%/ -9%/ 0% yoy.

Ultimately, we expect a 3% yoy decline of the Group's sales and expect the EBIT margin to decrease to 11.8% from 12.3% in 4Q23. Ferro's profitability may experience the pressure from raw material prices, especially copper. Besides, limited earlier costs of marketing and promotion may have been raised. We also expect the wage costs to increase yoy.

We forecast 4Q24 financial costs to reach PLN 3 million (yoy drop from PLN 6 million in 4Q23), including PLN 1 million of negative FX differences. All in all, we expect the Company to report PLN 17 million of quarterly NI (up 8% yoy).

We assume a higher yoy net debt. It seems that the Company should increase inventories by c. PLN 20-30 million to be able to boost sales.

Financial forecasts

We modify our financial forecasts incorporating 4Q24 expectations. We still cannot see any material demand rebound in the region. We expect the Company to rise prices of selected products and closely monitor the market reaction to this.

Ferro has started modernizing production lines and plans to launch the batteries production in Czechia. We raise our forecast of capex for 2025 to over PLN 20 million. The Company seems to be determined to make an acquisition which we deem probable, albeit in 2H25.

Valuation

Our valuation for Ferro falls under the impact of (i) the risk free rate revision (at 5.9% currently vs 5.6% in the definite forecast period previously), (ii) valuation horizon forward shift in time, (iii) peer valuation update, and finally (iv) modification of our financial forecasts. Our 12M EFV constituting a 50%–50% mix of the DCF FCF method and peer-relative exercise, falls to PLN 39.5 per share. The DCF FCF/peer-relative valuation yields PLN 46/ 33 per share (previously PLN 49/33 per share).

Market environment

The situation on housing markets in the region is rather feeble, though Poland's market seems to improve which is corroborated by a rising number of issued construction permits and started dwellings.

According to Poland's CSO,

- in 2022 (i) 200,000 dwellings were started, down 28% yoy, (ii) 239,000 dwellings were delivered, up 2% yoy, and (iii) 297,000 building permits were issued, down 13%;
- in 2023 (i) 189,000 dwellings were started, down 6% yoy, (ii) 220,000 dwellings were delivered, down 8% yoy, and (iii) 241,000 building permits were issued, down 19%;
- in 2024 (i) 234,000 dwellings were started, up 24% yoy, (ii) 200,000 dwellings were delivered, down 10% yoy, and (iii) 241,000 building permits were issued, up 20% yoy.

According to the Czech Statistical Office,

- in 2022 (i) 42,000 dwellings were started, down 6% yoy, (ii) 39,000 dwellings were delivered, up 14% yoy, and (iii) 86,000 building permits were issued, down 5%;
- in 2023 (i) 36,000 dwellings were started, down 15% yoy, (ii) 38,000 dwellings were delivered, down 3% yoy, and (iii) 77,000 building permits were issued, down 10% yoy.
- in 2024 (from January to November) (i) 33,000 dwellings were started, up 3% yoy, (ii) 28,000 dwellings were delivered, down 15% yoy, and (iii) 67,000 building permits were issued, down 6%.

According to CEIC DATA, in Romania

- in 2022, 105,000 building permits were issued, down 7% yoy;
- in 2023, 79,000 building permits were issued, down 25% yoy;
- in 2024 (from January to November) 71,000 building permits were issued, up 1% yoy.

Strategy

The Company's F1R2 strategy (without acquisitions) assumes generating PLN 1,400 million of revenues and PLN 193 million of EBITDA in 2026, with annual capex below PLN 30 million. We forecast lower top line and EBITDA.

Besides, the F1R2 strategy assumes a dividend payout in the amount of not less than 50% of the Company's NI (provided the financial and market situation remains stable) and the consolidated ND/EBITDA ratio below 2.5x. M&As are the important element of the strategy. Ferro looks for opportunities for development of production capacities and its offer and consider various types of partnership to support expansion. We believe the Company may be forced to revise its strategic goals due to the market conditions.

Risk factors

1. Economic slowdown in Europe
2. Falling demand for new flats
3. Falling frequency of renovations
4. Qualified workforce shortage
5. Pressure on salaries
6. Volatile raw materials prices (of copper and zinc, in particular)
7. Unfavorable/ volatile FX rates (currency risk when PLN and CZK weaken against US$ and EUR)
8. Lack of stability in the region
9. High interest rates
10. F1R2 strategy revision

Catalysts

1. Higher demand in Poland and neighboring countries
2. Expansion in European countries
3. Strengthening position on the existing markets
4. New logistic center in Romania
5. New systemic solutions in the offer
6. Product certification for West European markets
7. Favorable FX rates and raw materials prices
8. Acquisitions in attractive segments

DM BOŚ S.A. generally values the covered non bank companies via two methods: comparative method and DCF method (discounted cash flows). The advantage of the former is the fact that it incorporates the current market assessment of the value of the company's peers. The weakness of the comparative method is the risk that the valuation benchmark may be mispriced. The advantage of the DCF method is its independence from the current market valuation of the comparable companies. The weakness of this method is its high sensitivity to undertaken assumptions, especially those related to the residual value calculation. Please note that we also resort to other valuation techniques (e.g. NAV-, DDM- or SOTP-based), should it prove appropriate in a given case.

KEY TO INVESTMENT RANKINGS

This is a guide to expected price performance in absolute terms over the next 12 months:

Buy – fundamentally undervalued (upside to 12M EFV in excess of the cost of equity) + catalysts which should close the valuation gap identified;
Hold – either (i) fairly priced, or (ii) fundamentally undervalued/overvalued but lacks catalysts which could close the valuation gap;
Sell – fundamentally overvalued (12M EFV < current share price + 1-year cost of equity) + catalysts which should close the valuation gap identified.

This is a guide to expected relative price performance:

Overweight – expected to perform better than the benchmark (WIG) over the next quarter in relative terms
Neutral – expected to perform in line with the benchmark (WIG) over the next quarter in relative terms
Underweight – expected to perform worse than the benchmark (WIG) over the next quarter in relative terms

The recommendation tracker presents the performance of DM BOŚ S.A.'s recommendations. A recommendation expires on the day it is altered or on the day 12 months after its issuance, whichever comes first.

Relative performance compares the rate of return on a given recommended stock in the period of the recommendation's validity (i.e. from the date of issuance to the date of alteration or – in case of maintained recommendations – from the date of issuance to the current date) in a relation to the rate of return on the benchmark in this time period. The WIG index constitutes the benchmark. For recommendations that expire by an alteration or are maintained, the ending values used to calculate their absolute and relative performance are: the stock closing price on the day the recommendation expires/ is maintained and the closing value of the benchmark on that date. For recommendations that expire via a passage of time, the ending values used to calculate their absolute and relative performance are: the average of the stock closing prices for the day the recommendation elapses and four directly preceding sessions and the average of the benchmark's closing values for the day the recommendation expires and four directly preceding sessions.

DM BOŚ S.A. generally values the covered banks via two methods: comparative method and fundamental target fair P/E and target fair P/BV multiples method. The advantage of the former is the fact that it incorporates the current market assessment of the value of the company's peers. The weakness of the comparative method is the risk that the valuation benchmark may be mispriced. The advantage of the fundamental target fair P/E and target fair P/BV multiples method is its independence of the current market valuation of the comparable companies. The weakness of this method is its high sensitivity to undertaken assumptions, especially those related to the residual value calculation. Assumptions used in valuation can change, influencing thereby the level of the valuation. Among the most important assumptions are: GDP growth, forecasted level of inflation, changes in interest rates and currency prices, employment level and change in wages, demand on the analysed company products, raw material prices, competition, standing of the main customers and suppliers, legislation changes, etc. Changes in the environment of the analysed company are monitored by analysts involved in the preparation of the recommendation, estimated, incorporated in valuation and published in the recommendation whenever needed.
